We were introduced to Anthony Sblendorio and the Back to Nature team in 2003. They came highly recommended by our architect. They lived up to and exceeded the expectations set by the recommendation. From our first meeting, Anthony's enthusiasm, knowledge, creativity and passion were contagious. He set our expectations very high and delivered.

Over the next seven years, Anthony Sblendorio and his professional team collaborated with our architect, interior designer and engineer to create a vision that reflects our needs and lifestyle. Their landscape architects created a master plan for our property and their landscape construction team ensured it was realized in the field. The creation of our outdoor rooms was a reflection of our tastes and style realized inside our home. Key parts of our plan included an elegant overlook, arbors, a beautiful pool, bluestone walks and terraces, and lush plantings with year round interest. Back to Nature's landscape architects team with their maintenance specialists to create an estate management plan. The Back to Nature team continues to work with us through this management plan to keep our property beautiful and protect our investment.

Now that everything is finished, we enjoy sitting outside on the terrace admiring everything – the pool, the overlook, the arbors and all the gardens.

We are pleased to have chosen Back to Nature and would recommend them for any landscape architecture project.

Sincerely,

Joe & Kathy Grano
