Re: The Willow School ULI Presentation

Dear Anthony:

Thanks once again for taking the time out of your busy schedule to give a tour of The Willow School.

Considering the comments that I heard after the event and in the days following, the tour was a great success. The audience members found the tour of Willow School to be informative and thought-provoking (although, the weather could have been better!). Based upon your presentation and the audience reaction, I expect that ULI will run an expansive program devoted to green building technology and the economic advantages of using LEED criteria. I anticipate scheduling that program for winter 2007; I hope you will participate in that program as a panelist. ULI encourages responsible land development and use of natural resources. Your firm certainly embodies these principles, as is demonstrated by the innovative work you do in New Jersey.

Once again, thank you for taking the time out of your busy schedule to work with us and for making a successful program. I look forward to working with you on other ULI events.

Best regards,

Lawrence F. Jacobs
