To Whom It May Concern,

This letter is written in support of the nomination of Anthony Sblendorio for "Person of the Year."

I have known Anthony both personally and professionally for more than 10 years. Anthony has been a leader in promoting and demonstrating sustainable landscape design before "sustainability" became fashionable. Through his work with the Willow School in Gladstone and his Fern Valley project in Tewksbury, Anthony has taken advantage of every opportunity to get out and speak and advocate for sustainable site design. He has demonstrated leadership in his field and promoted and encouraged others to follow.

Most recently Anthony has teamed up with former Governor George Pataki and others to co-found Ecological, a New York-New Jersey based company dedicated to "creating value for real estate through sustainability."

Anthony Sblendorio has an impressive record of success in his field and is an exemplary candidate for the "Person of the Year."

I look forward to your favorable consideration. I may be contacted by email at kklipstein@raritanbasin.org or by phone at (908) 685-0315.

Yours Truly,

Kenneth H. Klipstein, Director
