Dear Anthony,

It seems that I'm always hearing about the great work that you and Back to Nature are doing, or running into you at conferences. Congratulations on your recent successes in so many of your ground-breaking green development projects. I don't know how you make the time to share your expertise with so many organizations outside of your busy work schedule, but you do. And you've certainly helped us!

Thank you for supporting the Rutgers Center for Green Building by sitting on our Advisory Board and by offering a generous donation to our Leadership Program. Your reputation as a leader in green building and regenerative development is an asset to us. The innovative work that Back to Nature does helps push the envelope beyond strictly green building and informs the conversation about helping evolve ecologically friendly communities.

I look forward to our continued work together.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Serick
Executive Director
